

THE COWBOY JUNKIES TRAIN TORONTO-VANCOUVER NOV. 10-14, 2006

"The importance of the railway is so ingrained in our collective psyche that when you tell another Canadian that you are going on a cross-country train trip, the response is, almost invariably, 'oh, wow, I've always wanted to do that.'"

There is one journey that every Canadian band must undertake before it can truly call itself a Canadian band. They must pile into a barely roadworthy van and head on down the Trans-Canada Highway (which, as it so happens, follows the route taken by the first Trans-Canada railway). The number and quality of gigs is irrelevant, the point is to make it from one end of the country to the other without splitting up.

This November we get to jump aboard a train and play music as we roll across the country. How cool, how Canadian, is that..." - Michael Timmins, Cowboy Junkies

Be a part of a legend... three days and nights on board the last great stream-line train - Via Rail's Canadian. Through the North Woods, Prairies and Rockies - from Toronto to Vancouver, 3,000 miles on the rails that built a nation! Comfortable sleeper berths, freshly-prepared meals, excellent hotel in Toronto, welcome event and non-stop entertainment on board! Our own dome lounge and performance cars with plenty of space for socializing... Afternoon mini-concerts, open mics and evening shows. Be one of seventy-five patrons joining Cowboy Junkies, Blackie & the Rodeo Kings, Andy & Josh of Skydiggers, guests Fred J Eaglesmith (Toronto-Winnipeg) and Over the Rhine (Winnipeg-Vancouver) for the trip of a lifetime! It doesn't matter if you're traveling alone or with others, if you play music or are just a fan - you'll be welcome here and make friends that will last a lifetime. All aboard!

"We had high hopes, but the trip was even better than expected. We knew the performers would be great, however we were not prepared to be so overwhelmed with the quality of our fellow travellers, the Roots on the Rails folks and the staff on the train. Thanks to all for a great time!" - Chris and Robin Jenkins
